New Business

There will be fly-bys at the Aviation Museum on July 10th in lieu of the Aviation Festival. Anyone can get involved and participate.

There are no scheduled Young Eagles events due to the pandemic mess but individual can do flights on their own. Al Clayton and Burke Wick have done flights and other members have volunteered as being available and willing to do individual flights.

EAA National has a Young Eagles day camp program and materials available to chapters.

Bob Edison mentioned the Eagle Flight program for older persons to get a first flight experience. Rick Henry had the materials provided by EAA for this program and discussed what was involved.

Tom Lawhorn will do a Facebook Live event on the modifications to his Glastar project for the August meeting.

Rick Eiben is helping to sell Vern Siefferts airplanes for the family. He will post info on the chapter website.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:34pm.

After the official meeting ended several members logged into a second Zoom session. Lars Gleitsmann was present with a Gov't Affairs report that EPA was still trying to do away with leaded avgas. They are trying a different tact by banning some components in avgas.
